Estancia Las Palomas is the dove hunting experience of a lifetime! Founded by people with a passion for both wing shooting and the best of Argentine culture, the lodge is designed to give hunters the perfect place to relax after an amazing day of hunting. Located in the center of excellent hunting grounds and roosts. Although you will feel surrounded by wilderness and wildlife, you will lack for nothing in comfort, just over an hour's drive from Cordoba City through paved roads and highways. Experience the best of Argentine food, with first-class wines and world-renown asado. From appetizers to desserts, you will indulge in the finest presentations of gastronomic delights. Guests receive first-class treatment from the time they step out of the plane until their final bird hits the ground.
